

WESTERLY

According to republican leaders there will be a grand committee session of the Rhode Island general assembly next Wednesday for the election of a chief justice of the supreme court to succeed Justice C. Frank Parkhurst who is to retire February 1, by reason of age limitation. Associate Justice William H. Sweetland of the supreme court is his probable successor. Until Justice Sweetland qualifies there will be no vacancy in that court. Therefore, the grand committee session for the election of an associate justice will not be held until the first week in February. This will be followed by another grand committee session to fill a vacancy in the superior court that will be occasioned by the promotion of Judge John W. Sweeney or Judge Chester W. Barrows.

Some of the leading supporters of Judge Barrows declared they had votes enough to win now and were standing pat. Some of the organization leaders in charge of Judge Sweetland's campaign say that he will win overwhelmingly, while others are not quite so enthusiastic.

Among the candidates for the superior court judgeship are Speaker George J. West, of Providence, Judge Baker of Newport and Judge Hamill of Bristol. No candidate has yet been selected by the republican organization.

In Providence Tuesday at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Miss Dorothy Elizabeth West, daughter of Mrs. Margaret and the late George J. West, of Providence, was united in marriage with Harold Clinton Moore, of Westerly, who served with distinguished honor in France as first lieutenant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Moore and associated with his father in the prosperous George C. Moore company, a leading industry of the city.

The bride entered the church walking with her brother, Attorney Albert B. West, and was preceded by the attendants as the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was played. She was met at the church door by the groom, the bridesmaid was Miss Rosalind G. West, sister of the bride, and the groom was attended by his brother, Thomas Moore.

The bride's gown was of Dutchess sat in, with train, embroidered in silver, and her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of narcissi and miniature calla lilies.

The bridesmaid wore sapphire tulle over gold cloth and a picture hat to match. She carried Ophelia roses. The gift of the groom to the bride was a pearl necklace. The bride's gift to her attendant was a platinum pin and gifts to the best man and ushers gold cuff links. The ushers were Henry Boland, Jeffrey Moore and Geo. J. West.

The breakfast and reception was held at the home of the bride. The house was decorated with plants and flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore are on a wedding trip to New York, Washington and Atlantic City. They will reside in Westerly.

There was numerous response to the annual roll call of the Broad Street Christian church and a thorough enjoyment of the social festivities and the appetizing supper. Miss Jennie B. Stanton, elocutionist, gave a program of readings, and Mrs. Dickenson here in the interest of Y. W. C. work gave an interesting talk on the subject.

Deputy State Councilor Frederick Peasey, of Pawcatuck Council, Shannock, installed these officers of Hope Council, Westerly, Junior Order United American Mechanics: Fred Peasey, counselor; Charles C. Church, vice counselor; William S. Eaton, recording secretary; Fred F. Wilcox, assistant; Henry W. Sullivan, financial secretary; Daniel S. Harrington, treasurer; L. Everett Clarke, conductor; Edward Potter, warden; Charles Hill, inside sentinel; Andrew Greene, outside sentinel; Howard A. Greene, chaplain; Howard A. Greene, trustee.

David Aiken, Jr., will leave today (Friday) for Chicago where he is to be assistant to the disbursing officer of the Chicago State Hospital. He served as lieutenant during the war and went overseas with the Dixie division, serving eighteen months. He was aide to General Bandholtz, provost marshal at Chaumont, France, previous to returning home.

Local Laconics.

An act has been introduced in the house increasing the allowance for undertakers from $35 to $55 for the burial of public charges.

An act before the general assembly provides for an appropriation of $33,000 to allow $100 a mile for repair work on state highways, the allowance not to exceed $100 for any one town.

Theodore Bodenwein, of New London, interested the Colonial club members Thursday evening with a vivid story of what he saw on the battlefields of France after the war.

The Westerly Sanitary corps basketball team is scheduled for a game with the Wakefield team in the state assembly next month.

Alfred W. Gurney, known in Westerly as coach of the Birkley baseball team of New London years ago, now editorial writer on the Providence Journal and Bulletin, and who served as war correspondent, is giving talks on The Other Side of the War.

The Alert Hook and Ladder company will entertain the Wakefield fire department, February 7.

Cornelius C. Moore of Newport, has been appointed state chairman of the American Commission of Irish Independence, which is to have charge of the drive for the week of February 22 to float the issue of Irish Republic bonds in this country.

The late Mrs. John W. Hannan was godmother of Albert B. Gurney, Crafts and willed her gold and a black ring set with fourteen diamonds, Miss Crafts is daughter of the late At. A. B. Crafts, formerly of Westerly.

Negotiations are closing for the purchase of the Burnside Babcock property as a site for a big biplane. So far as known there is no opposition to the sale of Riverside park to the Ninigret company for industrial purposes.

Walter Flynn will succeed Clarence B. Rochet clerk of the Third district court February 1. The appointment is for a term of three years. Judge Oliver H. Williams will enter upon a new term of three years on the same date.

At the next meeting of the Westerly town council a water commissioner will be appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Louis W. Arnold. The new appointee will be a republican.

Walter Snyder of the Nash store, enjoys the Winter Garden Passing show, in Providence Thursday.

Howard Taylor and Earle Leonard are visiting in Fairhaven, Mass.

Howard M. Barber is on a business trip to Philadelphia.

There was a report Thursday that one of Westerly's representatives in the general assembly was opposed to promotion of a Westerly man from the superior to the supreme court bench.

With the caucus ten months away there is already talk of making a change in Westerly's delegation to the general assembly.

STONINGTON

Due to the unfavorable weather Stonington fishermen were unable to fish for nearly a week. In consequence the local markets have received shipments of fish from Boston.

The board of relief is in readiness to resume sessions on schedule time and expect to hear from many disappointed taxpayers.

A portion of the borough was in darkness Wednesday night as the electric lighting plant was out of condition.

Mr. James H. Goodwin is the guest of Miss Daisy Taylor at Narragansett Pier.

GOODYEAR

The match game which was to have been rolled on the local alleys last Tuesday evening between the Jewett City Five and the Goodyear Five has been postponed on account of the large amount of snow, which makes automobile driving rather difficult.

At present the standing of the Goodyear cotton mill bowling league teams is very close, the general officers being in first place, with the weave room a close second. The weave room team are the favorites at present as they have defeated all the teams in the league, and have worked themselves up from last place to the second position by their consistent bowling.

Tuesday evening a crowded house saw the interesting production Why Germany Must Pay, and Friday evening Douglas Fairbanks in one of his latest pictures, His Majesty the American.

Tuesday a health crusade as suggested by the National Tuberculosis society of New York was started under the direction of Miss Boothbrow, the district nurse.

COLUMBIA

Owing to the energy of H. W. Porter of the standing committee of the Congregational church there was a very creditable congregation in church last Sunday morning. Besides the almost impassable condition of the roads for pedestrians, Mr. Porter took many persons to church and back to their homes in his large business sleigh, receiving the thanks of the community.

Philip Isham has practically completed his work as census enumerator of the town, and is shortly hand in report to the district officer.

Mrs. Mary J. Ashley, who has been with Mrs. Emily Little during the past two weeks, engaged as a companion, and who has been ill during a portion of the time, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Willimantic Monday following a severe attack of bronchitis.

Miss Viola Lewis, recently employed at Storrs college, has resigned and has been spending a week at home prior to filling an engagement as a stenographer in Hartford.

The Columbia extension school in agriculture and country life under the auspices of the Connecticut Agricultural college and the Tolland county farm bureau began its sessions at the town hall on Tuesday morning. The meeting was opened by Madison Woodward, a local director of the farm bureau. The meeting was divided into two sections, the men being addressed on agricultural subjects by E. E. Jones and C. H. Savage of the college and by County Agent E. E. Tucker.

The women's section by Miss M. E. Hayes. The attendance was very good considering the difficulty in traveling.

At the meeting of the grange last Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor of Lebanon were present and installed the following officers for the present year: Master, Philip Isham; overseer, Raymond Lyman; lecturer, Raymond E. Clark; assistant steward, Francis Friedrich; treasurer, Charles K. Hitchcock; secretary, Alice Hunt; gatekeeper, Louis Hennepin; Ceres, Vera Lyman; Pomona, Myrtle Collins; lady assistant, steward, Marion Holmes.

GLASGO

The annual firemen's ball will be held in Social hall this week. Several from this vicinity attended the dance in Pachaug last Friday evening.

The mercury has been hovering about zero for some days, and several days below the zero mark. Bluejays and snowbirds gather about the homes to be fed.

Frank Kinney transacted business in Norwich Wednesday.

Tuesday morning the mercury was reported as hitting the lowest mark thus far this year, 13 degrees below in the village and 14 below on the hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clark returned from Springfield, Mass., the first of the week.

Mr. Brand, who recently sold his stock and farming tools and went to Norwich to live with his son, Theodore Brand, is ill and unable to walk. Local friends hope for him a speedy recovery.

Walter L. Burdick, who recently sold his farm above the village, known as the Doyon farm, is soon to move to Plainfield.

Peter Gauthier, who has been working his team at the sawmill all the fall and winter so far, is at his home in the village for a few days.

CHESTNUT HILL

The mercury stood at 20 degrees below zero at the postoffice here Tuesday morning.

In spite of the snowstorm and severe cold Monday evening, some from this place attended the supper and social at Lebanon Baptist church. A sleighing party of over 50 of the Baptist people of Willimantic came over to enjoy the social time.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Killourey of Willimantic were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. James.

As A. L. Frink was riding homeward from Leonard Bridge a few days ago, the flight of a partridge frightened his horse. The sleigh was overturned and Mr. Frink was thrown out. He was severely bruised and his shoulder was dislocated. The horse came home. The sleigh was badly smashed.

Mrs. A. S. Peckham returned home

Saturday evening after a few days' stay with her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. H. Peckham, of Willimantic, who has been seriously ill.

Miss Edna Reibon, who has been in Norwich for the past year or two, is now at the home of her father, Edward Reibon, on Village Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jacobs and daughter spent the week end in Coventry.

Henry Hutchins lost a valuable horse last week.

William Elshardt, who has been working away for a year or so, is staying for a time at his home here.

Winthrop Davoll has a henhouse with a cemented floor. He discovered that rats had gnawed holes through the sills. Last Friday night he stopped the holes and then went inside. When he got through he had killed 16 rodents. The following night through the same process he killed 17. It taxes man's ingenuity continually to devise means to exterminate these pests, for wherever there is grain and vegetables one will find them, and they consume immense quantities. They will bore under cellar walls into the cellar.

The high wind Sunday swept the snow into hard drifts, filling up paths and making the highways very heavy traveling. Since the 8th of this month it has not thawed in the shade and quite a few mornings the mercury has stood at zero or below. Cellars have to be watched and in some cases fire has to be kept in them to keep provisions from freezing. This body of snow helps to keep the frost out.

There will be a collection for the Armenians at church next Sunday.

The C. E. society gave a supper at the hall Tuesday evening. Quite a company came from Willimantic.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bellware of Worcester, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Davoll over Sunday.

Henry V. Oehlers of New York city postoffice was home over Sunday.

SOUTH GRISWOLD

Mrs. John Thompson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Burroughs, at her home in Groton.

Services at the local church was sparsely attended Sunday, because of the cold.

Robert Olson of Jewett City recently transacted business here.

Walter McClinton of Preston transacted business in this place Saturday.
